Live News From the Tailors' Convention

Important information about the new trouser styles.

At the National Cutters' and Tailors' convention held in Washington, D. C., a few weeks ago, it was unanimously agreed that from now on peg top trousers will be strictly 'out of it.' The stylish trousers will be cut with a gradual tapering effect from hip to heel, thus giving an artistic, well draped appearance. Anything bordering on the 'extreme' will not be countenanced by good dressers. However, if you buy of us they can always be constructed according to the purchaser's individual requirements. We cut and make them in our own shop. Trusting that we may be favored with your order.

...The Bank Habit....

Possibly you who read this have never kept a bank account. If not, let us suggest that you try the experiment. Aside from the fact that your money will be safe from fire and theft, such a habit tends to thrift, economy, discipline and a general understanding of business principles, all of which are essential to success. It also affords a convenient method for the payment of bills; and, as the checks are always preserved and returned to you, they serve as receipts for the amount paid.

THE MURDER LIST GROWS EUROPEAN THAW NOW

Mrs. Guinness Believed to Be at the Head of the Agent of a Murder Trust—Sheriff Has Theory.

Special to the Herald.

La Porte, Ind., May 7.—The sheriff and his deputies are digging in all soft places around the Guinness farm, and it is believed still other bodies will be dug up to furnish further evidence against the woman. The sheriff says he believes the list of buried bodies will exceed twenty. The evidence shows that the woman was at the head or was the agent of a "murder trust," with headquarters at Chicago. It is the theory of the officers that many of the bodies were shipped to the Guinness woman for disposition. The state's attorney believes the woman attracted the victims, made love to them and finally disposed of them when they were not suspecting anything. Mrs. Guinness weighed two hundred and twenty-five pounds, and could easily overcome the average man.

The sheriff, acting on the theory that the woman was not burned with her house but has fled the country, has telegraphed the New York authorities to watch for Mrs. Guinness. She is believed to be trying to make her escape to Norway.

Six men's watches and one woman's watch have been found in the ruins of the Guinness home. Circulars are being mailed out giving the number of the cases in the hope that through this means the bodies of the exhumed victims may be identified. The coroner declares that the bodies which were killed some time ago the skulls show signs of fractures. Those killed later have no such indications, and it is the belief of the officers that they were asphyxiated. One of the woman's letters written to one of her supposed victims is produced and is full of endearing terms, urging the lover to come to her and be happy with her in one of the prettiest homes in Northern Indiana.

Prince George of Serbia Gains That Title By His Outbursts of Temper.

Special to the Herald.

London, May 7.—With one homing to his credit and scores of scarcely startling outbursts to his credit Prince George of Serbia is beginning to be known as the Harry of Europe. King Peter's subject demand that he be incarcerated in a lunatic asylum, but the king is unwilling to act. The feeling against the prince is becoming violent. The prince killed a soldier because of the bluntness of his salute. At another time the prince tried to shoot a cigarette from the mouth of a citizen. He missed the cigarette but shattered the jaw of the man. Such acts as these have outraged the people.
